A Hopeful Message to Scalp Sufferers and Men Whose Hair is Thinning

Dandruff now--bald later. The same is true of scalp diseases. In fact, baldness is a scalp disease. The trouble with the greasy salves and lotions, the so-called dandruff and scalp cures you have tried so far is that they don't do anything but temporarily relieve the itching and make the dandruff so it does not fall until it's dried out again. Nothing can cure--really cure such troubles but a real scalp medicine that will kill the germs causing dandruff and scalp disease.

Learning from leading fellow druggists throughout America that they had found a whirlwind cure for dandruff, eczema and all diseases of the skin and scalp, the Windrow drug store, on proving to the laboratories compounding the treatment that it is the most prominent drug store in this city, secured the agency for the remedy. This remedy is ZEMO, the clean, liquid preparation that kills the germ of disease and ZEMO SOAP to wash the scalp or skin clear and clean of the dandruff or scale and by its antiseptic qualities soothe and heal.

Sold and guaranteed by druggists everywhere and in Hondo by W. H. Windrow.

It is hard to tell which makes the average married man feel worse to sweat down his collar or for his wife to cry on his shirt bosom.

Stepping on a rusty nail has been the cause of many cases of lockjaw. The nail was not so much the fault as neglect of the wound. If such wounds were promptly cleansed and BAL-LARD'S SNOW LINIMENT applied there would be no lockjaw, as the antiseptic properties of the liniment would counteract the poison and the wound would heal quickly. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

ACROBATIC ELEGANCE.

Matilda bought a hobble skirt. Its style was very fine. But it was tied so tight it hurt Around the ankle line.

And yet she rather liked it when It showed her well-shod feet And offered glimpses now and then Of hosiery so neat.

And so unto a man she went Of great gymnastic skill. And many hours a day she spent In practice with a will.

At last she is prepared to meet The hobble skirt's demands. She doesn't try to use her feet, But walks upon her hands.

PRIDE.

"Why does Mrs. Stuckup assume such haughty airs? Has it been established that she is descended from a king?"

"No; she is the only woman in this part of town who has ever received a wireless telegram."

A Good Joke.

When an aviator falls People seem inclined to laugh And a poetaster calls For to write his epitaph.

New Name for Hobble Skirts.

A woman was visiting the shops one day with a friend and happened to remark about the hobble skirts. "What do you think of them?"

"Do you know what I call them?" her friend said.

"No."

"Standing room only."--Judge.

She Wants to Know.

"This here 'From Cape to Cairo' movement," said Mrs. DeStyle. "What is it?"

"I don't get you," growled her husband.

"Why, I know that ladies have stopped wearing capes. But what is a cairo?"

Self Distrust.

"What would you do if you woke up some morning and found yourself a millionaire?" asked Meandering Mike.

"I'd do like a lot of these other get-rich-quickers," replied Plodding Pete. "I'd hunt up an expert on insanity right off."

Real Provoking.

Percy--Miss Peachly's father played a beastly trick on Cholly last night, doncher know.

Algy--What did he do, dear boy?

Percy--He came into the parlor at ten o'clock and hung an "exit" placard on the door.

Mean of Him.

"So the girl who turned you down is to be married tomorrow? Who is the happy man?"

"I am."

"Oh, then you have made up?"

"No, we have not. Didn't I say I was the happy man?"

PARTICULAR.

"That new guy is quite a dude, ain't he?"

"Something awful! Why, he's not satisfied with trimming his cuffs with scissors of a morning."

"He ain't!"

"Naw. He lathers and shaves 'em."

It's Drawback.

We've noticed that the auto race Whenever it takes place Uses up a lot of members Of the human race.

Artful and Crafty.

"Belle has been going in lately for arts and crafts."

"What's her idea?"

"She declares that it takes both art and craft nowadays to capture a husband."

Only One Way.

"A complaint clerk can hardly be classed as a benefactor of mankind."

"Why should he be?"

"Why shouldn't he be? Isn't he always writing wrongs?"

Allowing the Man to Talk.

She had early adopted the excellent principle, when with a man, of allowing him to talk. Especially when the subject was one about which she knew little or nothing--Mrs. Belloc-Lowndes in "Jane Oglander."

He says:
"I began taking Dr. Miles'
Heart Remedy I had been suffering with trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was a struggle for me to do thirty minutes of work in a whole day. I suffered from pains in my left side and the left shoulder blade. I could not sleep on the left side, and I was short of breath that I thought I would never be able to take a full breath. The least exertion brought on the most distressing cough. I had scarcely taken a bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep and had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured."

Attack Like Tigers.
In fighting to keep the blood pure the
white corpuscles attack disease germs
like tigers. But often germs multiply
so fast the little fighters are overcome.
Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-
rheum and sores multiply and strength
and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate
stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T.
Budahn, of Tracy, Calif. "I have ever
found." They make rich, red blood,
strong nerves and build up your health.

Recovered Her Speech.
After being speechless two years, as a result of a long illness, Miss Jessie Fisher, of New Orleans, instantly recovered her voice the other day when
startled by a vivid flash of lightning
and a loud peal of thunder. Seventeen specialists in several cities had
tried to restore her voice but with no
success. Her father declares the recovery is the result of prayers offered
constantly by the family. A big family celebration has been planned.

Mathulka, of Buffalo, N. Y. says he

his family. Cure constipation, head-

Culture Will Out.
A young man confined in a Pennsylvania jail proved his refinement by using a spoon to pick his cell lock and escape. Well-bred persons never forget their table manners. Some men would have used a knife had they been situated as the Pennsylvania prisoner was.—New York World.

Died.
Mrs. Jacob Etter, (nee Keller) died
at her home on the Sauz after an illness of only two days duration, on Wednesday evening, Aug. 2, 1911, and
was laid to rest at the Catholic Cemetery during a Requiem Mass on Friday morning, Rev. Heckman performing the obsequies.

Deceased was born on March 14, 1845,
(she being the first white child born at Castroville), consequently was in her 67th year, at the time of demise. On the 16th day of August 1866, she was
happily married to Mr. Jacob Etter.
This union was blessed with ten children, five sons and five daughters.
Besides her grief stricken husband and
motherless children, she leaves twenty-
eight grand children and one great-
grand child, six brothers and two sisters to mourn her untimely demise.
A devout Christian lady, a dutiful
wife, a devoted and loving mother and
a kind and accommodating neighbor has gone to her last reward.

A large cortege of morning relatives
and friends followed the remains to their last resting place. We join in sympathy with the bereaved ones.

Thirty Years Together.
Thirty years of association—think of
it. How the merit of a good thing
stands out in that time—or the worth-lessness of a bad one. So there's no
guesswork in this evidence of Thos.
Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery
for 30 years, and it's the best cough
and cold cure I ever used." Once it
finds entrance in a home you can't pry
it out. Many families have used it
forty years. It's the most infallible
throat and lung medicine on earth.
Unequaled for lagrippe, asthma, hay-
fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs.
Price 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Sort of Job He Wanted.
"There's what I'm looking for,"
said the lazy man going through the
want advertisements for an easy job,
as his eye lighted on a call for can-
vassers to sell something that "would
sell itself." "That's the sort of a job
I want," he said to himself. "Something that I can earn money at without work." And he thought that really some day he must go down and
look 'em up.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.
"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried
seemed to do any good," writes H. M.
Youngsters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new
stomach and perfectly good health."

tario, has been troubled for years with

Texas Fuel
It was the discovery of fire that raised man into the rulership of the world and gave civilization its most useful element in progress. It melts the
mineral rock, turns the wheels of commerce, warms the human race and broadens the horizon of human endeavor.

Geologists tell us that Texas is one
of the latest additions to the western hemisphere, and the Ruler of the Universe. In creating Texas, gave us an abundant supply of everything on hand
and was especially generous with us
in minerals.

We have been supplied with a variety and an abundance of fuel. We have
wood, coal, oil and gas in commercial
quantities and after supplying home
consumption, ship large quantities
throughout the United States.

Coal.
Our coal fields have never been fully explored. Government geologists have examined a portion of our territory and
report a deposit of 31,000,000,000 tons,
of which 2,000,000,000 is bituminous and 29,000,000,000 is anthracite. We mined last year 1,245,377 tons and employed 4,400
laborers in the mines. The coal taken from the mines was valued at $3,419,- 481; to get all the coal out of the ground at the present rate of mining
would require 17,000 years.

It is estimated that four and a half
tons of coal used in making steam will produce one horse power one year ten
hours per day. The latent forces we have stored beneath the ground surpass human comprehension.

Oil.
Texas oil lubricates the national freight, lubricates the wheels of commerce and runs our factories. We have $100,000,000 invested in the oil industry
in Texas and we have taken 15,000,000
barrels of petroleum from the ground.
We have 1,250 miles of pipe line and oil
from Oklahoma fields is brought to Texas.

Gas.
Natural gas from the Hamletta field
is piped to adjoining towns and there
used for light and fuel and the manufactured product is used extensively
in the larger cities. We have 200 miles
of main pipe line and approximately 50,000,000 invested in the gas industry.

Nature has solved the fuel problem in Texas for centuries to come and laid
the foundation for a great manufacturing country.

Peevish Children.
Children are retarded in growth,
held back in school, become peevish,
nervous and fretful all because of some stomach disturbances. Look after your children's bowels. Do not allow them to become constipated. See that they digest their food properly. Then they will look well and feel well. To regulate the stomach and bowels and
cure these disturbances, give them Dr.
Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as specially
prescribed for children. It is absolutely guaranteed to do what is claimed,
and if you want to try it before buying,
send your address for a free sample
bottle to Pepsin Syrup Co., 119 Cald-
well Bldg., Monticello, Ill. It is sold
by all dealers at 50c and $1 a bottle.

Accused Of Stealing.
E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me.
boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve
of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles.
"It robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains
and injuries of their terror," he says,
"as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at W. H. Windrow's.

sinners on the front seats.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all deal-

When you feel dull, out of sorts, discouraged,

HERBINE
A Medicine of Power in
All Liver Disorders.
When the liver is torpid, it throws impurities into the system, which hamper every organ in the body. The result is that functional processes are not properly carried on. Impurities get into the blood, the stomach is bilious, the kidneys weak and the bowels irregular—generally constipated. Herbine clears out all these impurities, opens up the obstructed channels, strengthens
the torpid liver, cleanses the blood, purifies and regulates the bowels. After the system has been thus overhauled, there is an immediate improvement. Appetite returns, digestion is good, the spirits rise, the mind clears of gloomy forebodings and everything
looks bright and cheerful, which means, sound, healthy conditions
everywhere in the body.

A Hopeful Message to Scalp Sufferers and Men Whose Hair is Thinning

Dandruff now—bald later. The same is true of scalp diseases. In fact, baldness is a scalp disease. The trouble with the greasy salves and lotions, the so-called dandruff and scalp cures you have tried so far is that they don't do any thing but temporarily relieve the itching and cake the dandruff so it does not fall until it's dried out again. Nothing can cure—really cure such troubles but a real scalp medicine that will kill the germs causing dandruff and scalp disease.

Learning from leading fellow druggists throughout America that they had found a whirlwind cure for dandruff, eczema and all diseases of the skin and scalp, the Windrow drug store, on proving to the laboratories compounding the treatment that it is the most prominent drug store in this city, secured the agency for the remedy. This remedy is ZEMO, the clean, liquid preparation that kills the germ of disease and ZEMO SOAP to wash the scalp or skin clear and clean of the dandruff or scale and by its antiseptic qualities soothe and heal.

Sold and guaranteed by druggists everywhere and in Hondo by W. H. Windrow.

It is hard to tell which makes the average married man feel worse to sweat down his collar or for his wife to cry on his shirt bosom.

Stepping on a rusty nail has been the cause of many cases of lockjaw. The nail was not so much the fault as neglect of the wound. If such wounds were promptly cleansed and BAL-LARD'S SNOW LINIMENT applied there would be no lockjaw, as the antiseptic properties of the liniment would counteract the poison and the wound would heal quickly. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

ACROBATIC ELEGANCE.

Matilda bought a hobbie skirt, Its style was very fine, But it was tied so tight it hurt Around the ankle line.

And yet she rather liked it when It showed her well-shod feet And offered glimpses now and then Of hosiery so neat.

And so unto a man she went Of great gymnastic skill, And many hours a day she spent In practice with a will.

At last she is prepared to meet The hobbie skirt's demands, She doesn't try to use her feet, But walks upon her hands.

PRIDE.

"Why does Mrs. Stuckup assume such haughty airs? Has it been established that she is descended from a king?"
"No; she is the only woman in this part of town who has ever received a wireless telegram."

A Good Joke.

When an aviator falls
People seem inclined to laugh
And a poetaster calls
For to write his epitaph.

New Name for Hobbie Skirts.

A woman was visiting the shops one day with a friend and happened to remark about the hobbie skirts. "What do you think of them?"

"Do you know what I call them?" her friend said.

"No."
"Standing room only,"—Judge.

She Wants to Know.

"This here 'From Cape to Cairo' movement," said Mrs. DeStyle. "What is it?"

"I don't get you," growled her husband.

"Why, I know that ladies have stopped wearing capes. But what is a Cairo?"

Self Distrust.

"What would you do if you woke up some morning and found yourself a millionaire?" asked Meandering Mike.

"I'd do like a lot of these other get-rich-quickers," replied Plodding Pete. "I'd hunt up an expert on insanity right off."

Real Provoking.

Percy—Miss Peachly's father played a beastly twick on Cholly lawst night, doncher know.

Algy—What did he do, deah boy?
Percy—He came into the pawlor at ten o'clock and hung an "exit" placard on the dooah.

Mean of Him.

"So the girl who turned you down is to be married tomorrow? Who is the happy man?"

"I am."
"Oh, then you have made up?"
"No, we have not. Didn't I say I was the happy man?"

PARTICULAR.

"That new guy is quite a dude, ain't he?"

"Something awful! Why, he's not satisfied with trimming his cuffs with scissors of a morning."

"He ain't!"
"Naw. He lathers and shaves 'em."

It's Drawback.

We've noticed that the auto race wherever it takes place Uses up a lot of members Of the human race.

Artful and Crafty.

"Belle has been going in lately for arts and crafts."

"What's her idea?"
"She declares that it takes both art and craft nowadays to capture a husband."

Only One Way.

"A complaint clerk can hardly be classed as a benefactor of mankind."

"Why should he be?"
"Why shouldn't he be? Isn't he always writing wrongs?"

News reached here last Monday,
that a Mexican had fallen to his death that morning at the "High Bee". He undertook to extract some honey from one of the caves in the Bluff, and in order to reach the proper spot had to jump from the Bluff to the limb of a tree, but missed his mark and fell to the ground with the above result.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the
white corpuscles attack disease germs
like tigers. But often germs multiply
so fast the little fighters are overcome.
Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-
rheum and sores multiply and strength
and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate
stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T.
Budahn, of Tracy, Calif. "I have ever
found." They make rich, red blood,
strong nerves and build up your health.

Recovered Her Speech.

After being speechless two years, as a result of a long illness, Miss Jessie Fisher, of New Orleans, instantly re-
covered her voice the other day when
startled by a vivid flash of lightning
and a loud peal of thunder. Seventeen specialists in several cities had
tried to restore her voice but with no
success. Her father declares the recovery is the result of prayers offered
constantly by the family. A big family celebration has been planned.

Died.

Mrs. Jacob Etter, (nee Keller) died
at her home on the Sauz after an illness of only two days duration, on Wednesday evening, Aug. 2, 1911, and
was laid to rest at the Catholic Cemetery during a Requiem Mass on Friday morning, Rev. Heckman performing the obsequies.

Deceased was born on March 14, 1845,
(she being the first white child born at Castroville), consequently was in her 67th year, at the time of demise. On
the 16th day of August 1866, she was
happily married to Mr. Jacob Etter.
This union was blessed with ten children, five sons and five daughters.
Besides her grief stricken husband and
motherless children, she leaves twenty-
eight grand children and one great-
grand child, six brothers and two
sisters to mourn her untimely demise.

A devout Christian lady, a dutiful
wife, a devoted and loving mother and
a kind and accommodating neighbor has
gone to her last reward.

A large cortege of morning relatives
and friends followed the remains to
their last resting place. We join in
sympathy with the bereaved ones.

Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association—think of
it. How the merit of a good thing
stands out in that time—or the worth-
lessness of a bad one. So there's no
guesswork in this evidence of Thos.
Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I
have used Dr. King's New Discovery
for 30 years, and it's the best cough
and cold cure I ever used." Once it
finds entrance in a home you can't pry
it out. Many families have used it
forty years. It's the most infallible
throat and lung medicine on earth.
Unequaled for lagrippe, asthma, hay-
fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs.

Sort of Job He Wanted.

"There's what I'm looking for,"
said the lazy man going through the
want advertisements for an easy job,
as his eye lighted on a call for can-
vassers to sell something that "would
sell itself." "That's the sort of a job
I want," he said to himself. "Something that I can earn money at without work." And he thought that really some day he must go down and
look 'em up.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.

seemed to do any good," writes H. M.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new
stomach and perfectly good health."

Texas Fuel
It was the discovery of fire that
raised man into the rulership of the world and gave civilization its most useful element in progress. It melts the
mineral rock, turns the wheels of commerce, warms the human race and
broadens the horizon of human endeavor.

Geologists tell us that Texas is one
of the latest additions to the western
hemisphere, and the Ruler of the Universe. In creating Texas, gave us an
abundant supply of everything on hand
and was especially generous with us
in minerals.

We have been supplied with a variety and an abundance of fuel. We have
wood, coal, oil and gas in commercial
quantities and after supplying home
consumption still large quantities
throughout the United States.

Coal.

Our coal fields have never been fully explored. Government geologists have
examined a portion of our territory and
report a deposit of 21,000,000,000 tons,
of which 2,000,000,000 is bituminous and 20,000,000,000 is anthracite. We mined last
year 1,895,377 tons and employed 4,400
laborers in the mines. The coal taken
from the mines was valued at $2,413,- 481; to get all the coal out of the
ground at the present rate of mining
would require 17,000 years.

It is estimated that four and a half
tons of coal used in making steam will
produce one horse power one year ten
hours per day. The latent forces we
have stored beneath the ground sur-
pass human comprehension.

Oil.

Texas oil illustrates the national Geologic. Lubricates the wheels of commerce and runs our factories. We have $100,000,000 invested in the oil industry
in Texas and we have taken 15,000,000
barrels of petroleum from the ground.
We have 1,250 miles of pipe line and oil
from Oklahoma fields is brought to Texas.

Gas.

Natural gas from the Henshalla field
is piped to adjoining towns and there
used for light and fuel, and the manufactured product is used extensively
in the larger cities. We have 200 miles
of main pipe line and approximately
50,000,000 invested in the gas industry.

Nature has solved the fuel problem in Texas for centuries to come and laid
the foundation for a great manufacturing country.

Peevish Children.

Children are retarded in growth,
held back in school, become peevish,
nervous and fretful all because of some
stomach disturbances. Look after your children's bowels. Do not allow them to become constipated. See that they digest their food properly. Then
they will look well and feel well. To regulate the stomach and bowels and
cure these disturbances, give them Dr.
Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as specially
prescribed for children. It is absolutely guaranteed to do what is claimed,
and if you want to try it before buying,
send your address for a free sample
bottle to Pepsin Syrup Co., 119 Cald-
well Bldg., Monticello, Ill. It is sold
by all dealers at 50c and $1 a bottle.

HERBINE
A Medicine of Power in
All Liver Disorders.
When the liver is torpid, it throws impurities into the system, which hamper every organ in the body. The result is that functional processes are not properly carried on. Impurities get into the blood, the stomach is bilious, the kidneys weak and the bowels irregular—generally constipated. Herbine clears out all
these impurities, opens up the obstructed channels, strengthens
the torpid liver, cleanses the blood, purifies and regulates the bowels. After the system has been thus overhauled, there is an immediate improvement. Appetite returns, digestion is good, the spirits rise, the mind clears of gloomy forebodings and everything
looks bright and cheerful, which means, sound, healthy conditions
everywhere in the body.

Not in Vain.
If I may help some burdened heart —
His heavy load to bear;
If any little song of mine
May cheer a soul somewhere;
If I may lead some grieving one
To know that loss is gain,
Or bring some shadowed soul to light,
I shall not live in vain.

If I may help bewildered ones
To find life's grandest clue;
If I may steady faltering feet,
Or help some heart be true;
If I may bring a tender touch
To some lone couch of pain,
Or whisper words of love and strength,
I shall not live in vain.

If I may give disheartened ones
The impetus they need;
Or rescue the oppressed from hands
Of cruelty and greed;
If I may bring concord and love
Where strife and hatred reign,
Or be a friend to friendless ones
I shall not live in vain.

THE Anvil Herald closed its twenty-fifth volume with last issue and with this issue enters its twenty-sixth. Nearly eleven and a half years of this time, it has been under the present management. Of course, during that time it would have been impossible not to have made some enemies had we tried ever so hard not to have done so. But aside from a desire never to wantonly abuse any one's feelings, we have never made special efforts to cater to the whims of any one. This paper always takes a positive stand upon questions of public interest and cheerfully takes the consequences that follow to itself. In pursuit of this policy, we have seen the paper grow from a half patent sheet printed on a Washington hand press, with two hundred and forty subscribers to its present size and with a weekly circulation of a thousand copies. And every one of this vast number of readers knows where he will find this paper upon questions of moment—that side that its management conceives to be right—and whether they agree with his judgment or not, they accord him honesty of conviction. We had rather have this confidence than be a millionaire, we would sooner sacrifice its business than sacrifice this confidence, and we assure one and all that its policy in the past will be its policy in the future. If this appeals to you we solicit your good-will and continued patronage. Help us to make our 26th volume the best yet in its history.

BOTH branches of the state Legislature have passed resolutions calling upon Governor Colquitt to submit various liquor measures for the consideration of that body. As these measures were nearly if not all of them vetoed by the Governor at the last regular session of the Legislature, it is scarcely probable that he will make the mistake of acceding to their request. In the meantime, those anti-prohibitionists who argued that we should "submit the question of state-wide prohibition and settle it" should note how well the submission has NOT settled it from the standpoint of the pros.

THE ANVIL HERALD is in receipt of model plans for one-room, two-room, and three-room school buildings. These plans have much to commend them to boards of trustees who are interested in building and a copy of any or all of them can be had by writing to the Conference for Education in Texas, Austin, Texas, and making your wants known.

THE political maneuvering at Austin is exceedingly tiresome. The legislators should attend to the work they were called together to perform and adjourn. As a writer in the Express puts it, their hot air is costing the taxpayers cold cash.

SUCH unfortunate occurrences as is reported from one of the churches in the lower part of the county last Sunday is the inevitable fruits of prohibition agitation and that system of proscription which it fosters. It is manifesting itself all over the state and neither side of the controversy alone are the sufferers. It is regrettable in the extreme, but it is avoidable only by the aggressors desisting. That fact should be patent to all.

UVALDE is making preparations to entertain the delegates to the Dry Farming Congress in that city August 23, 24 and 25 inclusive in grand style. Notwithstanding the renewed interest in irrigation in this section, dry farming must continue to be the main dependence of a large majority of our farmers and there is a field for much usefulness for such organizations as the Dry Farming Congress.

THE drouth from which this section is now suffering will be a great draw back to the development of the country, but it is not so bad but what it might be much worse. There is feed enough in the country to carry it through to another season and the money derived from the cotton crop will be available for other needs.

THE Woodrow Wilson presidential boom, launched this week at Austin, like all things else political in Texas, has already struck the Bailey rocks.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Aug. 4.—Cadet Captain Charles Gilliam of Hondo, Tex., for the last five years a student of the Peacock school, San Antonio, and now an officer in the Peacock naval school of Corpus Christi, has just received from Congressman John Garner an appointment to the United States Military Academy.
Gilliam's father is Claude Gilliam, a ranchman of Hondo, who is having three other sons educated in the same school.

Capt. Gilliam's friends here congratulate him on his appointment and hope that he will make his country a great soldier.

Uvalde Plans Novel Entertainment.
Wherever the name "Uvalde" is known it is associated in the minds of the people with fine honey. Probably no place in the Southwest is so well known for its quality and quantity of honey as Uvalde. This has lead the Business Men's Club of that town to plan a unique feature in the entertainment of the Texas Dry Farming Congress there on August 23, 24 and 25.
All delegates will be taken in automobiles to an apiary near town where they will have the opportunity to see the honey taken from the hives, the process of extracting from the comb, the making of comb foundation, whereby the modern bee man gives his bees valuable assistance and causes them to do him a better job; while an experienced man will explain the various features of the honey business and answer all questions the visitors may ask.
Fresh milk and butter will then be brought from a Jersey dairy on an adjoining farm and in the shade of magnificent live-oaks the guests will break biscuit and rolls, hot from the oven, crown them in golden fresh country butter, saturate them in honey fresh from the hive and wash them down with a full capacity of sweet, fresh milk, unspiced of cream and unmixed with water.
Those who want something more invigorating and stimulating than milk will be provided with an abundance of metheglin, the wine of honey, the drink that would put beer and whiskey on the shelf, if there were only enough of the raw material to make it of.

Aid is Asked for Medina.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—Accompanied by Representatives Slayden, A. W. K. Billings of New York, personal representative of Dr. Pearson, the English capitalist and promoter, called on Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today to solicit the co-operation of the Department of Agriculture in the extensive farming and irrigation enterprise covering some seventy thousand acres of land in Bexar, Bandera, Medina and Kerr Counties, which has been started by the Medina Irrigation Company, backed by Pearson.

The company proposes spending about $5,000,000 constructing the irrigation plant, and will establish a large experimental farm in connection with this stupendous industrial project.
Representative Slayden and Mr. Billings had lengthy conferences with Secretary Wilson's assistants, Drs. B. T. Galloway, Melton Whitney and W. H. Beal, and enlisted aid of the Bureau of Soils, the Bureau of Plant Industry and the Office of Experiment Stations. Today's conferences were very satisfactory to Mr. Billings. Soil surveys will be made by the Government in the vast territory to be improved.
Mr. Billings left tonight for San Antonio where he will confer with Thomas B. Palfrey and C. H. Kearney, local agents of the Medina Irrigation Company, and probably will formulate further plans with them for carrying out this undertaking.

A NOTE TO YOU

There is a great multitude of little things to be found in a good drug store that you want the worst kind when you want them. Though small individually, they are a host collectively, and are really too numerous for us to attempt to mention. Spoken of individually each would appear trivial; for instance, corn plaster, court plaster, chewing gum! Little in themselves, but what a vast amount of comfort they afford! We have them all, ready for you when you call.

Yours truly,

W. H. WINDROW.

Leopold Brieden was a business caller at this office Saturday. Mr. Brieden thinks that the present drought may be a blessing in disguise. He says that the hot, dry weather has killed the boll weevils and that when the farmers do get a season they will make a big crop, whereas had it been wet this year they would possibly have raised more boll weevils than cotton.

There were three of them as he afterwards determined by following the trail left by them and the dogs who followed them a considerable distance before leaving them.

Not in Vain.

If I may help some burdened heart—
His heavy load to bear;
If any little song of mine
May cheer a soul somewhere;
If I may lead some grieving one
To know that loss is gain,
Or bring some shadowed soul to light,
I shall not live in vain.

If I may help bewildered ones
To find life's grandest clue;
If I may steady faltering feet,
Or help some heart be true;
If I may bring a tender touch
To some lone couch of pain,
Or whisper words of love and strength,
I shall not live in vain.

If I may give disheartened ones
The impetus they need;
Or rescue the oppressed from hands
Of cruelty and greed;
If I may bring concord and love
Where strife and hatred reign,
Or be a friend to friendless ones
I shall not live in vain.

V. A. Crow,
Hondo, -:- Texas.

SUCH unfortunate occurrences as is reported from one of the churches in the lower part of the county last Sunday is the inevitable fruits of prohibition agitation and that system of proscriptive which it fosters. It is manifesting itself all over the state and neither side of the controversy alone are the sufferers. It is regrettable in the extreme, but it is avoidable only by the aggressors desisting. That fact should be patent to all.

UVALDE is making preparations to entertain the delegates to the Dry Farming Congress in that city August 23, 24 and 25 inclusive in grand style. Notwithstanding the renewed interest in irrigation in this section, dry farming must continue to be the main dependence of a large majority of our farmers and there is a field for much usefulness for such organizations as the Dry Farming Congress.

THE drouth from which this section is now suffering will be a great drawback to the development of the country, but it is not so bad but what it might be much worse. There is feed enough in the country to carry it through to another season and the money derived from the cotton crop will be available for other needs.

THE Woodrow Wilson presidential boom, launched this week at Austin, like all things else political in Texas, has already struck the Bailey rocks.

Gilliam's father is Claude Gilliam, a ranchman of Hondo, who is having three other sons educated in the same school.

Capt. Gilliam's friends here congratulate him on his appointment and hope that he will make his country a great soldier.

Uvalde Plans Novel Entertainment.

Wherever the name "Uvalde" is known it is associated in the minds of the people with fine honey. Probably no place in the Southwest is so well known for its quality and quantity of honey as Uvalde. This has lead the Business Men's Club of that town to plan a unique feature in the entertainment of the Texas Dry Farming Congress there on August 23, 24 and 25. All delegates will be taken in automobiles to an apiary near town where they will have the opportunity to see the honey taken from the hives, the process of extracting from the comb, the making of comb foundation, whereby the modern bee man gives his bees valuable assistance and causes them to do him a better job; while an experienced man will explain the various features of the honey business and answer all questions the visitors may ask.

Fresh milk and butter will then be brought from a Jersey dairy on an adjoining farm and in the shade of magnificent live-oaks the guests will break biscuit and rolls, hot from the oven, crown them in golden fresh country butter, saturate them in honey fresh from the hive and wash them down with a full capacity of sweet, fresh milk, unrobbed of cream and un-mixed with water.

Those who want something more invigorating and stimulating than milk will be provided with an abundance of metheglin, the wine of honey, the drink that would put beer and whiskey on the shelf, if there were only enough of the raw material to make it of.

Aid is Asked for Medina.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—Accompanied by Representatives Slayden, A. W. K. Billings of New York, personal representative of Dr. Pearson, the English capitalist and promoter, called on Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today to solicit the co-operation of the Department of Agriculture in the extensive farming and irrigation enterprise covering some seventy thousand acres of land in Bexar, Bandera, Medina and Kerr Counties, which has been started by the Medina Irrigation Company, backed by Pearson.

The company proposes spending about $5,000,000 constructing the irrigation plant, and will establish a large experimental farm in connection with this stupendous industrial project.

Representative Slayden and Mr. Billings had lengthy conferences with Secretary Wilson's assistants, Drs. B. T. Galloway, Melton Whitney and W. H. Beal, and enlisted aid of the Bureau of Soils, the Bureau of Plant Industry and the Office of Experiment Stations. Today's conferences were very satisfactory to Mr. Billings. Soil surveys will be made by the Government in the vast territory to be improved.

Mr. Billings left tonight for San Antonio where he will confer with Thomas B. Palfrey and C. H. Kearney, local agents of the Medina Irrigation Company, and probably will formulate further plans with them for carrying out this undertaking.

A NOTE TO YOU

Hondo, Texas, Aug. 11, 1911

There is a great multitude of little things to be found in a good drug store that you want the worst kind when you want them. Though small individually, they are a host collectively, and are really too numerous for us to attempt to mention. Spoken of individually each would appear trivial; for instance, corn plaster, court plaster, chewing gum! Little in themselves, but what a vast amount of comfort they afford! We have them all, ready for you when you call.

Yours truly,

W. H. WINDROW.

Leopold Brieden was a business caller at this office Saturday. Mr. Brieden thinks that the present drought may be a blessing in disguise. There were three of them as he afterwards determined by following the trail left by them and the dogs who followed them a considerable distance before leaving them.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND IN FUR

Tiger Skins Go Begging In London—Less Siberian Sable Offered on Market.

At the recent London sales tiger skins were neglected, of the 82 skins offered only three being sold.

Japanese skins met with almost no favor, marten and fox skins remained unsold and only 1,500 mink skins out of 13,491 found buyers.

Only 3,260 real and bastard chinchilla skins were offered; the supply is steadily decreasing, the demand was good, and October, 1910, prices were realized.

Only 61 Falkland Island seal skins were offered; they sold readily. Lobos Island fur seal skins, 2,997, the first offered in a little over two years, brought high prices.

About 10,000 sable skins are marketed each winter in Nicolaevsk, Siberia, at $15 to $50 each. The number, however, is decreasing, but it is difficult to say whether from the animals being exterminated or from the failure of the hunters to slay them. The hunting of sables is entirely by natives.

During a good season about 1,000 red fox skins at an average of $4 to $5 each are sold in the same city of Siberia. The black fox is scarce, about ten skins being obtained annually, bringing $100 to $250 each. Bear skins are plentiful, but owing to the religion of the natives the heads and claws are always removed, and consequently the hides are of little value, selling at $7.50 to $10 each.

Does Not Irritate.

"I have found Simmons Liver Purifier the mildest and most pleasant in action, yet the surest remedy for constipation, torpid liver and all kindred troubles, I have ever used. It does not irritate or gripe." Very truly, S. P. Cleary, Jackson, Tenn.

Put up in tin boxes only. Price 25c.

Reminiscence.

ANTIQUITY OF BEER AND ALE

Beverage Was in Common Use in Germany in the Time of Tacitus.

Beer is a liquor made from any farinaceous grain, but generally from barley, which is malted and ground, and its fermentable substance extracted by hot water. This extract or infusion is evaporated by boiling in caldrons and hops or some other plant of agreeable bitterness added. The liquor is then suffered to ferment in vats. Ale is a liquor made from an infusion of malt by fermentation. It chiefly differs from beer in having a smaller proportion of hops; both are intoxicating liquors.

The manufacture of beer and its use as an intoxicating drink are of very high antiquity. Herodotus tells us that owing to the want of wine the Egyptians drank a liquor fermented from barley. Ale or beer was in common use in Germany in the time of Tacitus.

"All the nations," says Pliny, "who inhabit the west of Europe have a liquor with which they intoxicate themselves, of corn and water."

The manufacture of ale was early introduced into England. It is mentioned in the laws of Ina, king of Wessex, and is particularly specified among the liquors provided for a royal banquet in the reign of Edward the Confessor.

PUZANT R. YUZUK, No. 20 Tarakjilar, Constantinople, Turkey.

A Variable Condition.

"Any malaria around here?" asked the tourist. "Some say they is an some say they ain't," replied the native. "It 'pears to depend mostly on whether the person enjoys the kind of medicine that's mostly took fur it."

Difficulties of the Historian.

To obtain history which is literature and history which is accurate depends upon human qualities not often found in the same person. He who has the art of getting at the facts—and it really is quite an art, and difficult enough to master—somehow does not have the art of building his "facts" into a literary structure that pleases, perhaps fascinates, a multitude of readers.—L. A. Chase, Fellow in American History, Michigan, in Outlook.

Gave Up Hope

"I suffered five years, with awful pains, due to womanly troubles," writes Mrs. M. D. McPherson, from Chadborn, N. C. "They grew worse, till I would often faint. I could not walk at all, and I had an awful hurting in my side; also a headache and a backache.

I gave up and thought I would die, but my husband urged me to try Cardui, so, I began, and the first bottle helped me. By the time the third bottle was used, I could do all my work. All the people around here said I would die, but Cardui relieved me."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

For more than 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings, and making weak women strong and well. During this time, thousands of women have written, like Mrs. McPherson, to tell of the really surprising results they obtained by the use of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

Cardui strengthens, builds, restores, and relieves or prevents unnecessary pain and suffering from womanly troubles. If you are a woman, begin taking Cardui, today.

Who Was There That You Knew?

IN the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Review of Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs. It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and reveal strange things.

She Can't Help Wondering

"Bess, my dear! Do you know I could hardly wait for morning to come so I could run over and talk to you. I didn't sleep a wink all night. No, no one is sick, but I've had the most awful experience! You needn't try to guess, for you couldn't in a thousand years."

"Well," she proceeded, "to begin at the beginning, my aunt, who is head milliner at Birney's, copied a Paris hat for me. A Paris hat, I said. Yes, and it's a beauty, too! The model was $50 and mine is just as pretty."

"Then I think I've told you about Fred's cousin Louise that he thinks is so clever and charming. Yes, she is, really. They are own cousins; their mothers were sisters. But, of course, Louise's being brought up so far away and not meeting Fred till they were grown does make a difference. Well, I went over to see her yesterday afternoon and she raved over my hat, called it a perfect dream, and tried it on and looked stunning in it. Yes, she's very pretty and she has awfully sweet ways."

"You remember how it rained yesterday about half past four? Oh, yes, you must remember; a nice, soft rain that came down so gently you could hardly hear it. Well, I was just starting from Louise's to Aunt Ruth's and Louise insisted that I should never wear that beautiful hat out in the rain. The rain was coming straight down and was so soft that I thought an umbrella would be all the protection I needed, and, anyway, Aunt Ruth's isn't so very far from Louise's. Why, I was going to Aunt Ruth's to dinner."

"Well, Louise mourned so ever my lovely hat being dragged through the wet that she finally got me worked up, too, and then she hauled out an old morning hat of hers with quills on it and insisted that I wear it. She was so sweet about it that I just had to take her hat."

"What? No, nothing happened to her hat; you guessed wrong, young lady. This is my story and if you want to hear it you let me tell it!"

"Let's see, where was I? Oh, yes, just starting for Aunt Ruth's. Well, Fred came in after dinner and said he'd called up our house and mother told him I was at Aunt Ruth's and he explained that he'd come to invite me to go to the theater."

"Oh, I knew it was a horrid night and I told him so, but he said he was blue and cross and a nice, cheerful show would make us forget the weather. Well, my dear, when I went upstairs to get ready I remembered that I'd have to wear Louise's hat and almost fainted! The only consolation was that I knew the weather would never hurt it, but actually when I looked at myself in the glass and thought of my own lovely hat I wanted to stop and cry."

"When I went downstairs I asked Fred if he didn't think he'd better go around to the back door and call for me, but he just laughed. Well, that's sweet of you to say so, but you haven't seen me in that awful hat!"

"We were sort of late getting to the theater and I just melted into my seat and got my hat off in a hurry. Yes, it was a pretty good play, and when the curtain went down on the first act I had just about forgotten the weather and that horrid hat and Fred had cheered up and we were having a lovely time."

"Yes, this is where the blow fell! I was looking around at the boxes and I spied Louise in the right-hand stage box with the handsomest-looking crowd you ever saw, and, my dear, she was wearing my precious hat!"

"Well, maybe you think it is funny, but if it had been your hat she was wearing and you were trying to cover an awful quill thing with a program and a handkerchief, you wouldn't see so much fun in it."

"I choked right in the middle of a sentence and got so red that Fred thought I'd stuck myself with a hat-pin."

"Tell him, my dear! You know perfectly well he'd have thought I was a jealous cat. And, anyway, you don't know how gorgeous Louise looked in that hat!"

"What? No, he didn't see her and I never said a word. I just sat and waited until I could put Louise's quill affair on my head and sneak home."

"Supper? In that hat? Well, I should say not! But I just know that Louise and her crowd went somewhere and that Louise looked perfectly stunning—in my hat!"

"She promised yesterday afternoon to bring my hat home this afternoon when she went driving, and I know I should just die if I had to meet her."

"No, you wouldn't either say anything to her about wearing the hat, because she'd tell Fred, and you know perfectly well a man would never understand. Why, those men wear each other's ties and things and never care a bit."

"No, I told mother this morning that I'd have to go to a very important meeting of the Zetas this afternoon and for her please to see Louise when she comes."

"That's awfully sweet of you, Bess. I knew that you would understand exactly how I felt about it."

"Well, I don't know what to think. I'm afraid I must have a very evil mind, but I just can't help wondering whether Louise's theater party was an impromptu affair or whether she knew she was going when she persuaded me to save my beautiful hat from the weather!"

THE JOY RIDE.

A reckless pace,
A laughing hand,
On steering gear
A reckless hand,
No thought of care,
Wide open speed,
Of life and limb
No thought or heed.

A trust in luck,
A folly blind,
A danger sense
Left far behind,
Increasing speed,
And more and more,
A wild contempt
For what's before.

A dash—a crash—
A roar—a scream
Of agony,
A horror's dream,
A heap of junk,
A gasping breath—
The joy ride ends
In jaws of death.

HE'LL BE PLEASED.

"Will you give the waiter a tip?"
"Yes, I'll give him a good one. I'll tell him to go into some other business."

Milk and Butter.
If you can't afford a cow
Scientists advise, please note,
That 'twill feed the baby if
You keep a goat.

Suspicious.
"I notice," remarked the observant boarder, taking his seat at the table, "that the conversation stopped as soon as I came in. I hope nobody was saying anything to my discredit."

Then they all hastened to assure him that they had been talking about the weather.

Trouble With Mugsby.
Askitt—By the way, what kind of a chap is Mugsby?
Noit—Oh, he is sort of a human mince pie.
Askitt—Beg pardon?
Noit—He seldom agrees with anybody.

She Knew.
Mistress—Nora, I saw a policeman in the park today kiss a baby. I hope you will remember my objections to such things.
Nora—Sure, ma'am, no policeman would ever think iv kissin' yer baby while I'm around."

Quick Changes.
Wife—Darling, I want a new gown.
Husband—But you had a new one only a short time ago.
Wife—Yes, but my friend Ellen is to be married and I can't wear the same dress as I wore at her last wedding."

Of the Newest School.
She—Here comes Diana Weybridge. Doesn't she entirely satisfy your artistic sense?
He—Dear lady, she savors too much of a statement. We ante-post-prandial impressionists see beauty only in semi-suggested interpretations.—Punch.

KEEPS HER SECRETS.

"You never tell me any of your secrets."

"What's the use, my dear? You're so honest you'd never breathe them to a soul."

Because She Was There.
When he took her boat riding
He did not venture more
Than a short cable length to sea,
Yet did not hug the shore.

An Agreeable Innovation.
He—So Kate believes in women voting and being elected to political office the same as men?
She—Yes, and she says she would have the hand-shaking by constituents changed to kissing.

Following Injunctions.
"My dear brother, you should strive to heap coals of fire upon your enemy's head."
"I don't do mah bes', sah. I don't empty out all dem hot ashes ober his feet, sah."

Foreign Vs. American.
"Have you anything to declare, madam? Any laces, jewelry or furs?"
"Good gracious, no! Don't be foolish! I've been married to a foreign nobleman for two years."—Judge.

Pleasant Tasting Liquid Medicine

Acts as Quickly as Calomel, Takes the Place of Calomel, and is Absolutely Harmless

Dodson's Liver Tone is the name of the new vegetable tonic which W. H. Windrow's drug store recommends as a perfect substitute for calomel. Without causing any restriction of habit or diet, Dodson's Liver Tone starts the liver to working and cures constipation, biliousness, etc., without any harmful after-effects.

The fact that calomel is mercury has kept many people who are afraid of mercurial poisoning from using it. Calomel is a good thing to let alone. All persons can use Dodson's Liver Tone, whether they have been in the habit of taking calomel or not, for it is entirely vegetable and cannot do harm. W. H. Windrow's drug store will give the money back to any dissatisfied purchaser. Price fifty cents.

Tried an Experiment

Ma N. Avery, Delhi, N. Y., had two houses exactly alike, and painted them: one Devoe lead-and-zinc; the other barytes-and-zinc. He paid same price for both paints.

He used six gallons of lead-and-zinc, 12 gallons barytes-and-zinc.

He paid $18 for painting lead-and-zinc, $36 for painting barytes-and-zinc.

The total cost of the lead-and-zinc job was $27; the total cost of the barytes-and-zinc job was $54.

He didn't know he was buying barytes; the dealer told him that paint was as good as Devoe.

A fair example of how it generally comes-out, when you buy "something just as good." Better go by the name; the name; and the name is Devoe. 16 Holloway Bros.

Deaf and Dumb Printers.

Manual training is an important part of the education imparted at the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Mount Airy. One notable feature is a well equipped printing office, where boys who show a preference for this trade become proficient in it. This office prints the stationery of the institution and also issues a bi-weekly magazine. An official of the institution says that printing is a desirable occupation for the deaf and dumb. It is an old adage of the craft that "A silent tongue maketh a full stick." Some employing printers show a preference for deaf and dumb compositors, and thus the great majority of the graduates of the Mount Airy printing office obtain lucrative positions. Even some of those who after leaving Mount Airy take a college course subsequently go back to printing.—Philadelphia Record.

Rev. M. L. Darby makes the suggestion that the Hondo Commercial Club would do a good service by arranging to sprinkle the streets of Hondo. The suggestion is a timely one. The heavy cotton wagons have cut the streets up until the dust in some parts of the town is almost unbearable, especially when a high wind is blowing. It should not cost any great amount of money to relieve this condition by sprinkling and what it will cost would doubtless be money well spent. What do the members of the Commercial Club think of the suggestion?

Their Morning Talk

"Say, ain't it the limit the way us girls has to hurry in the morning?" demanded Miss Martin, twisting in front of the rest room mirror, with her mouth full of hairpins. "I never get my puffs on to suit me before ma's boilerin' to know if I ain't goin' to eat nothin' before I have to run for the 7:27, an' I just have to fall down the stairs whether I got my clothes on or not."

"Aw, it's somethin' fierce!" agreed 'Stelle, the billing clerk. "I betcher if old Parkhurst had to hurry just once the way we do he wouldn't raise no holler every time we took a minute after eight o'clock to get ourselves lookin' decent."

"He gives me a pain," put in Mabel. "That yawp of his ought to get him a job on the L. Fullerton next—change for Wrightwood, Diversey an' Wellington." "Say, Martie, ain't you got a new tie?"

"Juh like it?" "Sure!" Red's awful becomin' to you; you ought to wear it all the time. Juh buy it, or swipe it off'n that good-lookin' feller we seen you with on State street?"

Miss Martin bridled. "Say, what you talkin' about? I don't go round on State street with no fellers. I always travel in a taxi!"

"Oh, you swell thing! Girl in the Taxi—What? Say, girls, juh s'pose my green satin evenin' gown, cut day-colletay, will be swaggar enough to wear to Martie's weddin', or will I wear a rope of pearls? Anyway, I didn't swipe the red flag off'n anybody; I bought it myself at the Mammoth store about a month ago."

The door opened and into the already crowded room pushed Big Johnson.

"Yep! Late again. Cars blocked. H'lla Martie; what's that about the danger-signal? You don't mean to say you've had a red tie for a month and never wore it once? You've had a strangle hold on that mirror long enough. Let me have a look at it—a man on the platform jabbed his elbow into my face and I guess likely I've got a dent that'll change the phrenologist's readin' and make me marry the dark man."

"All right, go ahead, if you're that stuck on your face," replied Miss Martin, unabashed, settling herself comfortably in the waste-basket, which, bottomless and sway-backed, bore mute testimony to its popularity in the chairless and couchless cubbyhole designated the rest-room.

"Say," went on Miss Martin, "it's no cluch to be part of a big family, 'specially when you're a stock size. Every time I want to put on my clo'es I never can find 'em, but I don't bother to hunt around in the closet—I just run right out and look around at the rest of the folks, and sure's you're a foot high somebody'll have 'em on."

"S I was sayin', I bought this red tie a month ago, an' instead of wearin' it down next mornin' I left it on my bureau. When I came home, Harry was wearin' it. I didn't say nothin', for Harry's awful good about lettin' me wear his ties, but next night I met Dick on Randolph, an' he had it on! When he got home that night I raised a holler. I said if I wanted to buy things for other people I'd start a orphan asylum—the orphan's 'ud be more grateful, anyway—an' I'd thank everybody to leave my things alone, for I was sick of lookin' on other folks for my clo'es when I wanted to wear 'em myself."

"Oh, I raised a fierce fuss. Did it do any good? Say! Next time I wanted that tie, I found it hangin' on Harry's gas jet, an' him thinkin' he owned it. He was realisint' when I took it this mornin'. Ain't that a brother for you?"

"That's not as bad as what my sister did to me," said Big Johnson, turning around with a chuckle. "You know that chemise with the Irish lace insertion Mabel gave me Christmas? Well, I looked all over for that the other night, and then I knew sis must have it on. I went downstairs. She was entertainin' her beau in the parlor, an' the minute I came in, she knew what I wanted. I could see it right through her peekaboo."

"Did she budge? Well, not a thumb-nail. She sat there and smiled at me, an' course I couldn't say what I wanted before him—he's awful shy. An' I couldn't get her out of the room, either, or I'd have got it. I had to wear my old ope to stay all night with Lilly Hyde. Oh, I was bottin' mad at her."

"Set!" 'Stelle put her head inside the door cautiously. "Parkhurst is lookin' for you, Johnson. Cut it out." "Hurry—hurry!" sighed Miss Martin. Gee! I wish I could stick a pin in that old savage."

Success Won Early.

Decisive success often is won early in life by stage folk. Dion Boucicault was famous at nineteen as the author of "London Assurance." Nat Goodwin's renown as a mimic was widespread before he was twenty; Edward E. Rice had but turned his majority when he scored with "Evangeline;" Edna Wallace Hopper was in short skirts when she first became an idol of Broadway; George W. Lederer, at the height of his acclaim as a musical comedy producer at the New York Casino was but twenty-seven, and Richard Carle was a full-fledged comedy star at twenty-six.
